Margaret Maureen Walters Obituary

Margaret Maureen Walters, beloved mother, daughter, sister, aunt and cherish soul peacefully transitioned on November 16th, 2025, at the age of seventy. Born on May 3rd in Jamaica, West Indies, she lived a life marked by profound love, resilience, sacrifice, and unwavering strength.

From her earliest days, Margaret embodied a spirit of quiet determination filled with hope. She migrated to the United States alone-a step marked by courage, loneliness at times, and immense hope. She forged her path with grit and grace, creating a life not only for herself, but laying the foundation that would carry the next generation including her daughter, nieces, and nephews. Her journey was not easy, but she did it with dignity, endurance, and faith.

She was a pillar-the strength behind her daughter, nieces and nephews, offering guidance, discipline, and the kind of love that shaped character. Her loving firmness was her way of protecting, preparing, and pushing those she loved towards their best selves. Her intentions were always rooted in care, hope, and deep devotion.

Her heart was immeasurable. She cared for family and strangers like feeding those without meals, providing shelter, offering help where she saw a need all the while sacrificing her own needs. Love was her language, and service was her expression of it. One of her greatest acts of love was the sacrificial care she gave her own mother, Rose. She tended to her with loyalty and deep compassion, giving herself selflessly until her mother's final breath. This legacy of caregiving, devotion, and honor is forever etched into the hearts of those who witnessed it.

She was a woman who stood firm through hardship, smiled through struggle, and gave deeply even when she received little in return. She leaves behind a legacy of perseverance and love-a path she carved so others could walk farther, dream bigger and live better.

She was preceded in death by her mother, Rose Smith, brothers, Hugh and Barton, nieces and nephew, Dionne, Tameka, and Marlon. She is survived by her brother, Philip; her daughter, Julie; nieces and nephews Rohan, Rochelle, Shelene, Merline, Tamara, Tamesha, Bridget, Kevin, Kenesha, Kean, countless relatives, and friends whose lives were touched by her fierce devotion.

She now rests with peace, reunited with those who went before her. In honor of her memory, we invite you to practice acts of kindness-caring for someone in need, helping a stranger, or offering comfort to the lonely. These things and others reflect the life she lived and would be the tribute she most cherished.

“ This is an absolutely Beautiful reflection and expression of such a wonderful Lady and Life well lived. I'm grateful to have gotten to meet Margaret and Dear sweet Rose. It was a Blessing to witness the Love Julie and her Pup Henry shared with their Mom and Grandma. May Peace and Comfort find its way to the entire family and friends of Margaret, a precious gift to all who came across her path. ❤️, Terrie "T", Henry's 🐾 Walker
