

Marjorie Ann Walker

February 12, 1933 - April 21, 2025

In Loving Memory of Marjorie Ann (Ivy) Walker Also known as Marjorie Bagot, Marjorie Griffith, Marjorie Mathurin and Marjorie Paul Sunrise: Cortland Village Corentyne Berbice, British Guyana Parents: David Bagot and Edna Halley Raised by her beloved grandmother, Flora Bagot

It is with heavy hearts that we announce the passing of Marjorie Ann (Ivy) Walker, a devoted mother, cherished grandmother, loving sister, and loyal friend. Marjorie was born in Cortland Village Corentyne Berbice, in British Guyana, where her journey began under the tender care of her grandmother, Flora Bagot.

She was a daughter of strength and resilience, raised among her siblings Oniel, Henry, Gloria, June, George, Dorcas, and Zilma. Together, they built a foundation of love and unity that would ripple through the generations.

Marjorie's life was one of service, sacrifice, and love. She was the proud mother of Rudolph, Noel, Elsie, Yvette, Camilla, Wendy, Compton, Esther, Maggie, David, Yonnette, Rhonda, and Rory. Her legacy lives on in them and in her many grandchildren and great-grandchildren who were blessed by her wisdom, warmth, and endless care.

Marjorie dedicated herself to the well-being of others. She worked with diligence and heart as a nurse assistant at Georgetown Hospital in Guyana. After relocating to the United States, she continued her calling in healthcare, offering comfort and compassion to all she served. Her passion for caring naturally extended into the kitchen, where her love of cooking and baking led her to pursue culinary arts—a field in which she found great joy and fulfillment.

To know Marjorie was to know a woman of quiet strength and enduring love. She gave selflessly—as a mother, grandmother, sister, cousin, and wife. Her hands were always busy, her heart always open. Whether nurturing her children or sharing a home-cooked meal, she lived a life grounded in kindness, faith, and generosity.

Her memory will forever be etched into the hearts of those who knew her and loved her deeply.

Rest in peace, Marjorie. Your love was a gift to us all.
