“ I didn't know him personally, but I watched a documentary about him today. After watching I realized that his life didn't end with addiction, it still continues through tributes and his foundation. His mother is a wonderful woman and I pray for the family strength and peace ❤️

“ My Sweet Qua aka gBaby aka My Chocolate Drop

If I could send one last letter to you, I would want you to know this:

I would never change my love for you — not for anything. I would do it all over again a thousand times just to have you as my son. Every moment with you, even the hard ones, were a gift I would never give back.

I miss you more than words can say. I wish I could hold you in my arms just one more time, feel you being loud and obnoxious in the way that only you could be — filling the house with your energy and your light. I miss your beautiful smile, the way it could brighten even my darkest days. You were my everything. You still are.

I wish more than anything that you could just climb into my bed one more time. If I could turn back the clock — if I could have woken up just a little earlier that night, or if I had gotten up when you woke me at 2:49 a.m. with all the banging in the kitchen — maybe, just maybe, things would be different. I carry that wish with me every day.

But even through the sorrow, my love for you remains unshakable and eternal. I love you with every piece of my heart, and I promise you this: I will keep your legacy alive. I will say your name. I will share your story. I will make sure the world remembers how deeply you are loved.

*Until I can hold you again,
I love you always and forever,
Mom*
