I'm going to miss my cousin, friend, prayer partner and encourager. I can hear her tell Jesus, "I wanted to come home earlier but did you hear my cry? Jesus said " I heard your cry my child, but remember your time is not my time and your thoughts are not my thought. Welcome home my good and faithful servant well done. Love you James, Justin and Jarred. Peace be still.

“ My husband and I had the pleasure of being stuck in the elevator with her and a some more family members during a family reunion.
Once we were located we all had to climb out between floors, no one had time to panic because we were joking and laughing about the incident I. We love you cousin and will miss you ❤️🙏 “ I'll never forget all the wise council, the love, the genuine support and guidance that Ms.

Clark provided to me over the years. A women who was willing to take on another son and always showed up in a mighty way for her own family. You will always be loved and remembered.
