“Gone but never forgotten. Reflecting on the time we shared. It's amazing how the memories flow when we have to say goodbye to a loved one. You think of all the things to say and remember the things you've done. Our family was close. Our mom always kept us together, no matter what. You were the oldest sibling and we looked up to you. So now, God has called you to join other family members. You taught me tennis, you gave me directions when I got lost, you made me laugh, you talked straight talk on many conversations. I remember the barbeques in your backyard, the rides to Six Flags, the furniture you made for my apartment, and the many others things we shared. I thank you for them all. To make it plain and clear, you are my big brother. I will love you for ever. R.I.P. Evon.
