No one says that when it's a white person who was doing it but when it's a black person he can't get rest even after his death

“ I offer sincere condolences to the family and friends of Mr. Bobbitt. As you mourn the loss of your loved one, keep in mind that God promises a future when "death will be no more" and "all those in the memorial tombs will hear Jesus' voice and come out." (Revelation 21:3-5, John 5:28,29). Jesus said: "I am the resurrection and the life. The one exercising faith in me, even though he dies, will come to life." (John 11:25). Continue to "draw close to God (in prayer) and he will draw close to you." (James 4:8).

“ My sincerest condolences to the family of Ryan Christopher Bobbitt. No matter who we are, losing a loved one in death is painful. Because of all the pain and suffering(i.e. death) that we all experience, many wonder does God care about us. First Peter 5:7 assures us that he does, it says "while you throw all your anxiety on him, because he cares for you."

There are many other promises in the bible from the Almighty God, that I have found to be comforting during difficult times. One is at 2 Corinthians 1:3,4 which states: "Praised be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of tender mercies and the God of all comfort, who comforts us in all our trials so that we may be able to comfort others in any sort of trial with the comfort that we receive from God." The bible also tells us how God feels about death at 1 Corinthians 15:26, "And the last enemy, death, is to be brought to nothing." God hates death and views it as an enemy.

Another encouraging scripture is found at Revelation 21:4 - "And he will wipe out every tear from their eyes, and death will be no more, neither will mourning nor outcry nor pain be anymore. The former things have passed away."

I hope you have found these thoughts to be uplifting. If you would like to find out more about the wonderful promises from the Almighty God, visit the website jw.org or if you have any questions, feel free to contact me at lvtsew@gmail.com.
