“ My family and I offer sincere condolences and encouragement to the family and friends of Mr. Toure. May God's loving resurrection provision comfort and strengthen you all now and in the difficult days ahead. Remember that God's Word assures us that "The hour is coming when all those in the memorial tombs will hear Jesus' voice and come out." (John 5:28, 29a). Jesus confirms his role in our salvation when he stated: "I am the resurrection and the life. He that exercises faith in me, even though he dies, will come to life." (John 11:25). May you have peace!

“ Malcolm, unfortunately I never got to meet or know you, but your father and I worked together closely for a few years. Yemi is a dear friend, and when our friends hurt, we hurt. My prayer is that all of your family and close friends will find comfort in the Lord, knowing that your pain and suffering are over. But the truth is, I know that there are really no words that can heal their hurt. May we all remember to cherish those we love. Rest in peace, my brother.

“ What moves through us is a silence, a quiet sadness, a longing for one more day, one more word, we may not understand why Malcolm left this earth so soon or why he left before we were ready to say good-bye, but little by little, we begin to remember not just that Malcolm died, but that he lived. And that he gave us memories. I am deeply saddened by the loss of Malcolm. I will always remember the time we worked and spent together.
