“ Christopher,
I am so sorry to hear about your lost. Your mother was an extremely caring person. I remember the time we went to hear you play your horn when you were in high school. I know she was very proud of you. Keep the faith and ask your creator to watch over you and your family. I know what you must be going through, but remember she will always be in your heart. I lost my husband last year and my creator is helping me through the pain and hurt. Remember, when you think about your mother it should bring a smile to your face. We will all meet together one day. God bless you.
