“ Although we unfortunately never had the opportunity to meet in person, Murdock and his vibrant personality made a huge impact on me. His wonderful laugh could light up a virtual conference room and he just had this way about him- setting a great tone and making people feel welcome. Murdock was always true to himself, he took ownership and connected well with his coworkers. He is a valued member of our ESIS family and he will always be remembered and always be missed. My deepest condolences to Murdock's family and many, many friends. He always spoke so fondly of his trips to various Alumni and sporting events and I was always impressed by the longstanding relationships he had maintained over the years and across various moves to different states.

“ Wow! I appreciate the time we had together. I met Murdock as a freshman at WSSU as he worked as a manager for the WSSU men's BB team. He was eager to learn and always willing to work. He became a vital part of our program. That friendship has lasted 37 years. I still don't know how Murdock made so many WSSU events over the years! He would show up to support WSSU and I would always ask, "Murdock where do you live?" I thank God for our friendship and our time together. I pray that God will comfort his family, friends and the WSSU family during this difficult time. I will never forget my friend. Love ya, man!

“ I extend my deepest and sincere condolences to the family. I am filled with so much sadness on this sudden loss. Murdock was a true visionary for seeing, wanting, and executing the best for WSSU and our Atlanta Alumni Chapter. I learned a lot from his precise ethics by working closely with him in our chapter. He always made himself available to help out when called upon. Rest in peace, my brother. We know your heavenly angel will continue to guide us!

Sincere condolences are extended to the Williams Family and RAMily. Murdock was a unique individual when it came to his dedication to the WSSU and to the RAMily. He would drive right through Georgia to a WSSU game as if it was right here, and he did it without incident. Of course, he drove very fast. 🙄

*My friend, rest easy until we meet again. You will truly be Missed!

“ Murdock,

I am truly sad about your passing. When we were in Atlanta, you were my neighbor in the Johns Creek Community. It was nothing for us to see you at the school with your son, at the grocery store, at a game, or just passing on the road. It was always nice knowing a Ram was in the community. Your passing has taught me that you always think you have more time to catch up. You lived your life in the present. You were always recognizing the accomplishments of others. You never missed an opportunity to give a shoutout to someone or recognize a birthday. Enter to Learn Depart to Serve. Murdock You Served. I pray that God is holding you in the palm of His hand and recognizing your life well lived in servanthood and support of others.

“ This is one of the hardest condolence posts I've ever had to write. You were a day one since I met you in 1988 and we've been boys for over 35 years. The hole in my heart created by your departure can never be filled. Thankfully, we always dapped each other up and we were men enough to say "I love you" as we separated. No WSSU function will ever be the same! Rest in power, my Brother.

“ Words cannot express my sense of loss. You were a dedicated Ram and a loyal friend to me. I cannot believe I will not see you pull up in Winston-Salem, Murfreesboro, any where the Rams play. You will be truly missed my Friend. Take your rest. The RAMily has a special angel watching over them.

“ Prayers and condolences 🌸 to the entire family: Although I am a couple of years older and we grew up just across the Hudson River from each other and knew many of the same people, we first met at WSSU in the mid 1980's, and created that HBCU bond & The Northern Connection family every since. He always checked in when back in New York or at WSSU. R.I.P. Young Brotha

My friend, my RAMily and co-pilot in leadership! Regardless of your agenda, you always made a way to be present to support anything I did. Not enough space to share all you mean to me. Just know that heaven has gained a strong, dedicated servant angel. You will be remembered and loved forever❤️

Continuous prayers for the family and Ramily. Murdock was the epitome of a Ram...always present and willing to be of service. His presence on this side will definitely be missed. But I am oh so sure that he will still be at every SU Ram game, homecoming and gathering, watching over all of us, laughing as we remember and talk about him. Rest easy my friend. Continue to watch over us on this side with the rest of our Ramily angels.
