“ I met Mwana at Caldors where we both worked, from day one his smile, work ethic and friendly nature was infectious. We became close friends right away and became close with each other's families until I moved out of state. I can never forget the laughs, the venting about life's burdens and the genuinely good heart that Mwana had, he cared for each person the same no matter what walk of life they came from, I was very proud to call myself I friend of his and pass along my deepest condolences to his family and especially his children that he adored for every day of his life.
