Ms. Nealy Henrietta Wooten gained her wings and entered her heavenly home on July 24, 2023.

Ms. Nealy was born in Quitman, Georgia to the late Millard Hope Wooten Sr. and the late Katie Mae Humphreys. She was a poet and an artist that embraced the lives of her family and friends. Her poetry was published in the Who's Who of Poetry Ledger. At The Mansion of Decatur where she resided, she was known to her friends to be a sharp dresser. Ms. Nealy was a woman who spoke her mind and lit up the room with love and laughter. Most importantly, she was a child of God who loved serving the Lord.

Ms. Nealy graduated from Miami Northwestern High School at the age of 16 in 1960. She attended Cleveland Community College where she met Amos James Ford. They united in holy matrimony on July 5, 1965. To this union two beautiful daughters were born: Zena and Zalea Ford (Kemp). She also worked for Lucent Technologies for over 20 years as a Fiber Optic Specialist.

Ms. Nealy is survived by her two beautiful daughters. Additionally, she leaves to cherish her memories two loving sisters Katie Mae Woods (late Charlie Woods) and Frances Jane Wooten; son-in-law Wayne Kemp; grandchildren Kendrick Benjamin, Keiona Benjamin, Phillip Temple, Za'Nious Temple; niece Deborah Woods and nephews Derrick Woods and Darrick Wooten. She was also preceded in life by her brother, Millard Hope Wooten, Jr.

She will always be remembered for her humor, kindness, and her unwavering faith in God.

“ May the family know how Nealy was loved. Nealy loved wearing her hats, she loved her Miami Dolphins and Pastor Black. She will remain in the hearts of the people that loved her. I know she's writing her poems in heaven. RIP Nealy
