

Quintella Cook

July 9, 1934 - November 12, 2024

It is with deep sadness that we announce the passing of Quintella Cook, who left us peacefully on Tuesday, November 12th, 2024, at the age of 90. Born on Monday, July 9th, 1934, in Birmingham, Alabama, Quintella was a beloved member of the Oxford, GA community.

Quintella's life was defined by her dedication to her work, her family, and her community. She spent many years as a devoted Unit Secretary at Medical Center East, where she was admired for her professionalism and her caring nature towards patients and colleagues alike.

A highly social individual, Quintella was known for her vibrant personality and her ability to bring people together. Her warmth and kindness extended beyond her professional life, touching the lives of many who were fortunate enough to know her.

Quintella was predeceased by her loving parents, James Barnett and Ruth Lindsay, as well as her beloved husband, Samuel H. Cook. She leaves behind a legacy of love, friendship, and community spirit that will be cherished by all who knew her.

In lieu of flowers, the family asks that donations be made in Quintella's name to a charity of your choice, in keeping with her generous spirit and love for helping others.
