“ Rachel was a junior high bestfriend of mine. She lived on the same street as me for a while. We hit it off right from the start and we were inseparable through the 6th grade. Many memories include hanging out at her place watching movies or having fun in her aunt's hot tub, or playing at my house jumping on my trampoline. Many nights we slept over at eachother's house. We celebrated her 12th birthday at the Sugarhill Community building. She attended my 12th birthday party at the Cumming Skating Rink. My favorite memory with her was when my dad drove us and my brother to the mountains to hang out in this secluded camping area where we there was still snow on the ground from the night before, yet it was 70 something degrees out. We played in the stream, and explored the trails. Just last night, after I got home from church, I hit my elbow pretty hard on the car door. I had an instant flashback of a memory of when Rachel had broken her elbow and had to wear her arm in a sling for some time. I couldn't help but laugh and think of her. So many memories with her I'll forever cherish. My heart goes out to her family during this sorrowful time, with many prayers lifted for healing, peace, and comfort. May she rest easy and in peace in the arms of Jesus! 🕊️🙏🕊️

“ Rachel and I were best friends when we were 11 and 12 years old. She lived on my street for a while with an aunt. We were always together in the 6th grade. We were at eachothers house for sleepovers and just to hang out to watch movies. I remember celebrating her 12th birthday at The Sugarhill Community Building. We played many games including Twister. She came to my 12th birthday party at the Cumming Skating Rink. We used to walk the neighborhood, go to the movies, hang out in her aunts hot tub or jump on my trampoline. We kept in touch on and off over the years as life has a way of keeping us going in many directions; going through our own personal life journeys. Anytime we did talk for a quick catch up we always told each other "love ya girl!" I'll forever cherish our young memories. Prayers to her family for peace, comfort and healing in the coming days. May she rest easy and at peace with our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ! 🕊️🙏🕊️🕊️
