Reggie and I shared time together when we both live in the same house. Soul ministry. And got to be good friends. Before we when on in different directions. Reggie had cane a long way. But now it's all about Jesus. Love yuh ou Reggie.

Reggie was always a joy to us. He loved his Uncle Turk and we loved him. We thanked the Lord that Reggie surrendered His life to him and served the Lord with all his might. To be absent from the body is to be present with the Lord. Rest well, my son. We are praying for Mom, Brenda, and the family.

My heart breaks as one mother to another in the loss of a child although we know they are only on loan from the one who loves them more, it hurts desperately to part. The sweet assurance is in knowing we will see them again under blissful circumstances. Meanwhile they have work to do assisting in preparing us a place. Love you my sister... ElderMarge

During the earlier years that we were able to spend together, I remember Reggie as one who would try to get the most out of life in the quickest amount of time. During the later years, it was a joy to see how his focus and conversations had become more about the spiritual...constantly referencing the importance of a relationship with Jesus Christ. May each of us develop that deeper spiritual insight so that our focus is on what is most important. Our love and prayers are with you Aunt Pearl, Brenda, Antoinne, Tamika, Tiffany and the entire family. Love Ted Jr & Wanda

“ *Reggie was a dear childhood friend He and some friends and I went to New York City shopping. Reggie got this fur coat, his mom told us how could we let him get that outfit. We all laughed cause that was him at the time much love to his mother Pearl Manning and sister Brenda. Reggie was always trying to be all that and a bag of chips.
Rest in peace my friend.*

*The Mannings and the Jacksons share the best childhood one could ask for. There are not many families that would all pile into one vehicle, imagine three adults and seven children in Aunt Marge's car driving out to the end of the island where we were convince we spotted a whale.
The Jackson family sends all of our love as well as the joy of the best childhoods to Brenda and Aunt Pearl. We love you Reggie! Neasia

“Reggie was such a joy to be around. He made you laugh and was always kind. We were privileged to share a holiday with him and other family members in Florida recently. May it bring peace to the family to know that the Reggie we love, knows only peace now. Deepest sympathy and love always. Aunt Bertie Brown.

“My cousin Reggie was such a warm, loving person with an exuberant spirit that lifted up everyone around him. Deeply loved by his family, especially his beloved mom, son, sister, niece—he will be greatly missed by us all and we will forever cherish his memory and honor the light he brought to our lives. Rest In Peace, dear cousin. We will love you forever. Your cousins, Joi, Kenny, and Kennedy

“ I was so saddened to hear of the sudden transition of my beloved nephew Reggie. He was so full of life! He was so energetic, loved people, met no strangers, and had this great personality that just captured your heart! He will be sorely missed by his family and the many people whose lives he touched in a very special way. Even in my sadness, I can still find reason to rejoice in knowing that Reggie is in a better place now, because he is at home with the Lord! You fought a good fight Reggie, kept the faith, and finished your course!
