

Reginald E. Robinson

July 10, 1953 - May 4, 2020

Reginald “Reggie” Elliott Robinson, the son of the late Lucille Banks Robinson Miller, was born on July 10, 1953 in Washington, DC. On May 4, 2020, after a brief illness, God with his ultimate wisdom called Reggie home for eternal rest.

As a native Washingtonian, Reggie attended several catholic schools in Washington, DC. He later entered the army and served in Hawaii during the Vietnam era. He trained and became an army medic in the 1970’s.

After his army career, Reggie returned to Washington, DC and worked in the healthcare field for nearly two decades. He ultimately retired from Georgetown MedStar Health after working there for nearly 18 years as a benefits specialist.

Reggie enjoyed watching old movies, barbequing, eating crabs, and listening to jazz. He was a huge and loyal fan of the Washington Redskins. He thoroughly enjoyed life with his best friend and wife, Sandra; together they traveled on several cruises to the Caribbean. Reggie was a devoted husband, father, grandfather, uncle, and friend.

He leaves to cherish his memory his loving and devoted wife, Sandra; Sandra’s two children with whom he shared a special relationship, Shanna McCauley (Jamael) & Sidney Tyson; four grandchildren, Jordan, Maya, Jared (McCauley)and Addison Tyson; one brother, Arthur Robinson (Barbara); four nieces, Beverly Tipton Hammond (Drew), Cassandra Pye, SaintanneTipton, and Tracy Robinson; one nephew, Niik Stewart; one niece-in-law, Sherri Wyatt; longtime friends, Cecelia & Leon Hatton; and a host of relatives and friends.

“ We studied piano at the Paramount School of Music operated by Reginald’s Mother who, in addition to being an accomplished musician and a respected professional in the Washington DC area, was a caring and devoted Mom. Although our interaction with Reginald was limited, even as young teens, he impressed us as a respectful young man who showed much promise to succeed in life. We extend our prayers and deepest sympathy to Reginald’s wife, family members (including brothers Arthur and Thomas, if reachable) and his many friends. Patricia Tyson & Theresa (Tyson) Saxton

“ My Dearest Uncle Reggie,

I miss you so much, but have the fondest memories to hold dear in my heart! Sandra, be assured that Reggie is at peace and resting with our GOD, and will always be there for us. No words can express my sorrow and pain, but my deepest condolences go out to you, Sandra. May you find comfort and strength in the promise that you will meet Reggie again in Heaven.

Love Always,

Sherri
