“ My mentor, friend, and confidant for 23 years. Thank you for your counsel, brilliant thinking, and unending love, my brother. Thank you for praying with and for me. Thank you for walking me down the aisle. Thank you for always giving it to me, 'straight, no chaser.'

Your strength and the unapologetic way you "did life" was something to marvel. Your "presence" is missed but the "presents" you left us all by way of wisdom, nuggets, and the unmitigated truth lives on forever.

*Remembering one of your mantras, "everything is as it should be!"
Rest easy, Dr. Worrell. Peace and Blessings!*

“ My "professor of life", The man who replied to my, "I love you, daddy," with, "I loved you, FIRST," The spiritual and natural mixologist, who was a guide to many, and who set his kids up for the bare rudiments of discipline and self care..while loving us in his inimitable way,.. YES, this man, the youngest of 3 brothers, while boasting of life taught teachings, knew the resolute power of God and was ready to meet him when he was called. This, is the Reginald Worrell Jr. I have known from birth. At 65 years young, I am and always will be, his first born....and in the end, between us, I loved him LAST.

“ When I first came to Atlanta, I met Reg at Hillside. Over the years I watched him grow as a counselor, teacher, minister and best of all friends. We lost touch as God would have it, as he told me I have to travel alone to get to my ultimate destination. I will love you and stay connected with you through eternity, my brother, mentor, friend.

I met Brother Worrell a few years ago at a Kriya Yoga class we were hosting for a mutual friend. Brother Reggie made such an impression on me that I kept in touch with him from time to time. After reading the other comments about the impact he's had on others, I can see why I was captivated by his wealth of knowledge and wisdom. His presence will be missed!
