“Daddy i know i should be rejoicing that you are in heaven and that you dont have to suffer through the hurt and pain anymore but i cant help the tears falling from my face right now. i wish i had the chance to tell you how much i love u and how much i miss you right now but all i can do is pray that i make it to heaven to see you again. i love you so much and it hurts so much to know that you are gone even today 2 years after you died i still cant fully grasp that thought in my mind. i see little thingsa that remind me of you everyday and though i try to smile and say that its your way of letting me you love me it still serves as the painful reminder that your not here i see you in lady gabriel and kaylan all the time and it makes me smile because i kno i will always have a part of you. people always say give your flowers while they are living i cant help but think i waited too long and took you for granted while you where here. i miss you everyday and you know that you are looking down on me proud of the woman i am becoming and i will continue to be the best i can be because of that. i love you daddy and i will never forget how wonderful you were to me

“ May God's loving provisions comfort and strengthen you now and in the difficult days ahead. The assurance that: The hour is coming when all those in the memorial tombs will hear Jesus' voice and come out. is recorded at John 5:28. This is evidence that God cares and will restore our loved ones...what a wonderful hope!

“ Growing up as neighbors and friends from the age of 10 I never would have thought the day would come this early for you to depart this world. I know you are in Gods House and I will see you again. My condolences go to the family and children of my dear friend. We will miss your smile and laughter and I will never forget the fun we had on Battleforest Dr.
