“ Richard you were my best friend which I met in the USA. We spent a lot of time together at work and outside also. I will never forget about you. Rest in peace.

I'm praying for you and sending my honest condolences to all your family and friends.

“ Patty, you know we are praying for you. Words are never enough. But Our Heavenly Mother is there by your side holding you and trying to comfort you. He suffered so much and Our Good Father called him home and Ricky has no more pain, no more cancer, and no more tears. Ricky will always be in your heart and no one can take that away from you. If you could see his new home, you would know he wouldn't want to be anywhere else right now. He loves you and that will never diminish. In fact, his love and prayers for you have now grown exponentially. He sees every tear you cry and wants you to know that you will be together again. He wants you to trust that so that you will begin to know his joy. Thinking of you and praying. Sending love, Darlene

“ Although we've only known Richard for a couple of years, we came to know a gentle soul, who cared deeply for his immediate family, but he always treated his friends like family as well. He will be truly missed.
