“ I just recently learned that one of my Best friends passed away, Mr. Robert Sheye Breaux. We spent almost every Thanksgiving together for the past, 9 years. Sheye was a phenomenal friend and individual and will be sorely missed. My heart is broken 💔 right now but I am comforted by the thought of Sheye being in the arms of his Lord and Savior. Sheye may be gone but he will never be forgotten.

“ I remember that you love comic books and had a collection of them - Captain America, The Hulk, Black Panther, The Avengers:

I remember that you love popcorn @ the movies- (the large bucket with no butter).

The day the dog ran into your car on the way to my church and you turned around to go back and find him. The day you told me you held the dog in your arms and cried when you saw him in pain.. Our bucket list included joining a senior citizens center in our respective neighborhoods to learn ballroom dancing. (smile). As a former NFL and NBA cheerleader, I honestly shared that my dancing days were post youth and you shared that in your youth, you and your brothers danced in your hometown with block parties with Michael Jackson and his brothers in their youth; The day you received your navy blue teamster's union jacket and the people in the cafe stood up to clap for you, then you thoughtfully let me try it on as it reminded me of a football letterman's jacket...(smile).. To your friends, relatives and family, you will be missed but your kindness will never be forgotten...

The day you told me you held the dog in your arms and cried because you saw the pain
