“ Cousin Robert, I will miss us joking around and sharing memories of growing up and what is going on in the world today. Again I just wanted to say thank you for keeping my mother company when she was sick. She and love you forever for that. You both can keep each other company again. I already miss you calling or texting me.. You will be missed. Love you cuz.

“ My Dear sweet friend of 20yrs or so....im going to deeply miss you....My morning will NEVER be the same....I think about you everyday and I've cried many of tears...Im going to miss my morning phones calls our conversation...our foodie adventures...our meeting spot at the Dunkin donuts shop.... the smile you have when you see my face coming thru the place ..priceless..... This going to take a while to get use too....I will never forget how you looked at me that Monday morning we last met up...you turned around and looked at me as I was looking at you....as if the angels knew something right then....I will never forget that moment.....im going to miss you calling me funny face ...ole coo coo head..or ole bubble head...and even Bubba.. knowing that's what I call you. ....our jokes us joking around and clowning each other.....Im going to also miss allllllllll the many stories you would share with me of you as a kid and your family...along with your personal life adulting adventures 😊 good times for you always 😎😏😊... We have had some good times together and alot of laughter.....I thank God for blessing me to have a friendship with you.....what you have left behind for me was this lesson...live your life to the fullest..be happy always no matter what life brings your way...always be humble....don't worry or stress over things in this life....and don't care what ppl say or think about you...and live your life how you desire and have fun doing it....I will cherish these things and the memories forever 😊 ❤️🤔...I still have the Bible verses you shared with me..and your voice mail too get me through these trying times....I love you my dear friend.... ❤️🤔❤️

“ To the family of my beloved friend Robert. He had a giving heart. He was like a biological brother. One of my fondest memories was when we visited his dad’s sister in California. That is when we developed a bond like brothers. He will be sincerely missed. Love you family. Jerry Jordan

“ Hey dad. I know it took me a long to get on here But my mind is quite not focus right now but I’ll get stronger Because you thought me that. You taught me how to travel and see the world outside Illinois you thought how to present myself like a lady. From sitting up straight to keeping my nails looking pretty. Because of you I know about the country side of Georgia. You taught me about how to not chase a man and that if he doesn’t chase you you’ll know your answer of how he really feels. In your last teaching moments you told me to always take time out for yourself. You always taught me stuff dad always trying to be a good dad. Most of all you taught me about GOD and that’s the best gift you and moms ever give to me. We had our differences and our ups and downs but you dad show me so much more to life. I love and miss you dad. We’ll see each other one day.

“ I miss you brother. I especially miss your calls asking me if I remembered so and so, etc. - you'd always call to just check in and I know it was your way of simply saying I love you.
Robert lived in Atlanta for about 35 years and loved it. He had made many many friends along the way. He never met a stranger. He loved going out and eating breakfast, lunch or dinner with friends. He loved Jamaican food as he constantly sent photos of food. Actually there wasn't too many foods he didn't like and didn't try.. I bet he went to every eatery in ATL just to check it out. Yes, he was everywhere eating well, connecting with others with a big smile on his face.
His last, start his day, hotspot was Dunkin' Donuts where he'd meet up with his good friends and see the special staff that he greeted every morning.
I am thankful that he had a second family in ATL that he loved being with and I know they enjoyed him too. It will be difficult not to see Robert ("Dirt" as his friends affectionately called him) again; but, he left a piece of himself with all that knew him. Hold on to all those memories..laugh more, love more.
We are grateful and blessed that God placed us (4 sisters and 1 brother) there for Thanksgiving to be with him and to see him before his passing.
I ♥♥ you brother and will forever miss your humor and your silly laugh. I know you truly loved life and you did it your way. RIP 🌹 always. Gone too soon ♥️ I love you! Sister Sarah
