“ I'm still at a lost. Such an AWESOME person. We last saw each other in Wayfields and gave me a hug and before you know we standing in the parking lot 30 mins later and he was checking me because I was doubting myself and his last words to me were "Adrienne, you are everything to somebody. You somebody to me or I wouldn't be standing here. This a new year Adrienne go for it all. Thank you Robert I'm going for all. Rest well my friend. You gone way to soon but you'll be remembered and loved by so many people and I'm one of them.

Rob was close friends with my son Cris and my daughter-n-law Shalun. I met Rob through them. He attended several of my gatherings. Rob was always respectable to me and always hugged me whenever he saw me. His passing came as a shock to me and touched my heart as well. He will be missed. May his memories stay in your hearts and bring smiles of joy as you think of him. My deepest sympathy.

“ Lil Robert, as I sit here remembering you, the thing that stands in front is the day you were born. You brought so much joy to your parents. I watched you grow from that little boy into the fine and honorable man you became. I watched you through several milestones of your life. As much sorrow as this brings me, I know it pales in comparison to your parents and your other close family members, your wife especially. May you rest now, son, as you fought the good fight! I love you now and forever!

“ *I'm so very saddened for this loss of such a great man. He never met a stranger. Though there will never be another Robert, we should all aspire to be a lot more like him. There are nothing be great memories and beautiful words of his character.
This isn't goodbye. It's see you later!
