“ Miss you little brother. Today would have marked the anniversary you and I took off that weekend without a person knowing our whereabouts but me you and God. We had the best brother to brother talk and laughed together all the back to Huntsville. You sure picked one hell of a way to get out if going on another trip. Someday will travel again. Love and miss you.

“ *To the family of Ronald Cordell Stephens: Please accept my sincere condolences for your loss. Death is the enemy of all mankind, yet when it touches us personally, few seek the comfort they search for. The unscriptural doctrines that are taught concerning death do not leave those who are grieving with comfort or a hope. They do however, leave many with unanswered questions. The response that God works in mysterious ways or that God needed another angel, does not satisfy the spiritual needs of those who are grieving. Nonetheless, many have found comfort in the pages of God's word the Bible (2 Corinthians 1:3, 4). In God's word we find the promise that we can be reunited with our loved ones (John 5:28,29; Acts 24:15). The Bible tells us where this happy reunion will take place (Psalm 37: 11, 29). We are told why we die (Genesis 3:17-19; Romans 5:12), and that the God of the Bible will end death forever (Isaiah 25:8; Revelation 21:3,4). Learning the truth about Jehovah, the God of the Bible (Psalm 83:18), God's Kingdom (Daniel 2:44), and the state of those who have died (Ecclesiastes 9:5), is the start to finding true comfort concerning loved ones who are sleeping in death (John 11:11-14; John 8:32). “ Poppa Ron was my good friend. I recall him and a group of friends arriving in the early morning hours to visit me when I lived in New Orleans. Guess whose voice I heard first as they entered the breezeway of my apartment? I hear his voice now each and every time as he greeted me by saying blind boy in his unique manner. My brother truly, truly missed. Rest now my brother. Mav
