“ I first met Rosalind at PALICO in Houston where we worked together for several years. She purchased a purple/lavender car and we laughed about it for a long time. Even after going our separate ways, we always stayed in contact and picked up right where we left off. I miss her and laugh out loud when I think of some of the things she would say. She was a good mother, wife and an even better friend. Love you always Roz!!!

“ My condolences to Fred, Brian and the entire Family in the passing of such a beautiful soul. Roc Wilson (the name we called her) was a friend, co-worker and partner in crime when need, when we lived in Houston. She never met a stranger, she was funny, loving and so very "real". Although we had not been in touch for a couple of years, she is someone that I will never forget and she will always have a special place in my heart.

Rest in Peace, Roc

“ Although I never had the pleasure of meeting your mother Brian, I did know how much she meant to you. As a mother of 2 young men myself, I know you have made her very proud. A mothers love for her child is something that can not always be described, it's deep and the bond can not be broke . She will always be a part of your journey and accomplishments. She will continue to gleam with pride from behind the gates of Heaven. She inspired you with her strength and determination in raising her 3 boys as a single mother, doing what she had to to provide for you and your brothers. What a great example of hard work she set before you... it's clear you got your work ethics from your mamma. I know you will keep your head up and let her see your full potential. I also want to send my condolences to your stepfather and younger brother. May you find the strength in God to get through this great loss, it is not always easy, but it is certainly do-able with the Grace and Peace from our Lord. I'm glad you all still have each other to lean on. May your mom rejoice in Heaven with your little brother, wrapped in the arms of Jesus 🙏🏻✝️💕💙

“ *To the Rice/Barefield Family,
On behalf of the Ward family of Waco, Texas, we extend our heartfelt condolences. We grew up in the neighborhood with Rosalind and her mother Pat and share so many fond and fun-filled memories. Although we kept in touch via Facebook, thankfully I was able to reunite with her in person several years ago while visiting my brother in Decatur. What a delight it was for us to be able to go down "Memory Lane"! May God grant you peace and comfort during this difficult time. Treasure your memories as she was truly "one of a kind!" “ Dear Rice Family: Please accept my sincere condolences for the loss of your loved one. May the love and support of family and friends comfort you greatly during this difficult time. The Bible also gives us comfort and hope to see our loved ones again right here on earth by means of the resurrection. "There will be a resurrection of the righteous and the unrighteous ". May you have peace as you think about this beautiful hope for the future.
