“ The Hardeman were next door neighbors. We often played in each other's yard. My heart goes out to you in the loss of your son, brother and father. My prayers and thoughts are with you . May you be comforted and lean not to thy own understanding but in all trust God.

“ My dear friends Graham, Virginia and Family: Please accept my condolences on the loss of your son, Ryan. I am so proud of how he grew up into such a fine young man. Many memories held dear to my heart. May Our Heavenly Father comfort you and renew your strength daily. The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh, blessed be the name of the Lord. In our Father's house are many mansions. Now Ryan is resting in one of our Father's mansions. Praying faithfully for you! ❤️

Hard to believe he is gone. As kids we tinkered with car stereos and rims for our cars. So many memories from elementary school and high school. Ryan was on my mind a earlier this year but never got chance to speak with him. I wish I had put in more of an effort to get in contact. My thoughts and prayers are with the family.
