Reflections

On July 24, 1976, the Lord brought into existence a God fearing man named Sean Emir Wilson. He was a blessing to his parents Joannette Wilson and Charles Wilson Jr. and a treasure to his sibling Naomi Wilson.

Sean dedicated his life to the love of his family. He adored his three sons; Sean Emir Wilson Jr, Eric Sean Wilson, and Evan Sean Wilson. In 2007, he met his partner for life; Kimberly Patrick. Their union was forever sealed on May 25, 2013, in the company of family, friends and our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

He accepted Jesus Christ under the fellowship of New Jerusalem Temple Church of God in Christ, and the guidance of his grandmother Ruth Lewis. The foundation that was laid for him through his faith is what made him into the loving son, brother, father and husband that we all knew him to be.

Sean earned a football scholarship to the University of Iowa where he graduated with a BA in Business Management and Accounting. It was there he joined the distinguished men of Alpha Nu Omega Fraternity., Inc.

Walgreens was the start of his professional career but Primerica was his passion. He was dedicated to helping people and ensuring they made good decisions regarding their future. Sean was everybody's "Big Brother". He was genuine, positive, caring, hard-working, and affectionately known as "Mr. Wilson".

Sean was a good man, he prayed for everyone, loved everyone, there is nothing he wouldn't do for someone whether they asked for help or not. He loved the Lord and always had his Bible. He always had a positive spin on any negative situation and always told people to do what's right no matter what. In addition to his dedicated wife Kimberly M.
