“ Seven years have gone by since we lost my dear Auntie Sheila. She was like a second mother to me in the US. 🇺🇸 We shared a deep, special bond, and sometimes I instinctively want to reach out to call you, only to be reminded that I can't. Still, I keep the hope alive that someday we will be reunited again, in the heavenly realm of my beautiful auntie. You are forever in my heart ❤️🙏❤️ I miss you so much ☐

Today marks six years since you left us. I am happy that you are at home in heaven and not here on this earth suffering like the rest of us. The world has changed, Aunty. People are so cold to one another, and I now understand why our Heavenly Father called you home. I miss you forever.

My Forever beloved Aunty Sheila, ❤️ who will never be forgotten. Today marks four years since you left us. I am now in a place of acceptance of your unexpected death. They say in time it gets easier to accept but the good thing is staying and believing in my faith which gives me great joy to know we will meet again in the heavenly realm. Anyway, I am away in the UK visiting my beautiful mother your younger sister Dolcie. It's been a while since I was able to make the visit due to the world being a pandemic. It's a different world now so I am happy you are in a better place of peace. I also wanted to share that I found love with someone who was my childhood sweetheart who I have always had a deep love and connection with and, ask that you keep us in prayer 🙏 In Jesus Holy and Mighty Name ❤️🙏❤️. Well, please give my love to the family and please tell everyone to continue to watch over us all until we all meet again. Not forgetting Mr. Neville please give him a big hug from me. I can image you both having a awesome time being In heaven. I forgot to mention I spoke with your friend recently Jean. Anyway, Aunty Sheila, love forever your Neice Sharon Williams ❤️❤️❤️🙏🙏

We are still struggling with you not being here with us in the physical sense but I know you are with us all in spirit. It's just hard for me to express how I am really feeling only God knows. I love you forever my Sister ❤️*

“ To My Dear Friend Sheila,
Words cannot express how much I miss you.
We rely on each other. So, what I'm trying to say is when you the Doctor took away your drivers license because of your eyesight problems I became your designated driver. I loved doing this because we had so much fun and laughter together. But on the 5th February 2019, I came by your home to remind you about your doctor's appointment and noticed your nephew Warren banging down the door. So I asked him what is he doing here and why was he banging down the door the way he was. Warren explained that her son Shaun was calling you and began to get worried and asked him to go and check on his mother. Warren then called the police by the time they arrived, James, your patient finally opened the door, and once we got in we found you lying face down. Something I never forget. Up until this day, that memory has haunted me that my Doctor prescribed medication for anxiety. If you could only see what is going on in the world today the world is in a mess we are going through a terrible pandemic. We have lost so much people in the world so my dear friend God keep you in his arms until we meet again. Love your friend forever Jean and likkle Glen 😊❤️🙏❤️🙏 Aunty Sheila, you are one of a kind and I am still missing you even though you went home today 2 years ago to be with our Almighty Father. You are always forever in my ❤️ heart there is not a day you are not mentioned. I remember when I got the sad news from Conrad I was in my office just getting ready to start my morning. I had just got back from the UK 🇬🇧 and I kept saying I have to call Aunty Sheila but I was overwhelmed with life and jetlagged from my trip. Then wow... I get this call I had to have Conrad repeat what he said. I lost it. My body melted I lost focus and I felt robbed that I did not get to speak with you. One thing I do remember the night before was that I was in my deep sleep and remember being woken up because I felt someone rocking my legs trying to wake me up. I remember looking down but no one was there and then it all made sense you came to say bye. I never remember dreams and I know this was not one. I complained a lot to my mother about why you never come to me in my dreams since your passing and my mother has no words because she is also distraught. Anyway, a few months ago I received a call from you and you were telling me heaven is so peaceful but there is a lot of work to be done. You also said I still don't have a husband and we both laughed out loud and then you were no longer on the phone. I knew it was real because we talk daily on the phone. I was so happy I called my mother your little sister Dolcie and she said she finally came to visit you. I miss our late night talks about family and life. I now understand why you were taken home because the World had changed Aunty Sheila and this would be so hard for you to deal with. We have lost many because we are in a pandemic. The world has been stricken down and wiped millions out with a Demon called Corona Virus / Covid-19. We are being told to stay home and wear a mask when we have to leave our homes. It's is very sad and extremely painful to see what is happening around the world. But I trust and have faith that God will prevail and I will continue to stay in the word and honor and praise him. It gives me hope that because I am believing and putting my trust in the Almighty Father I know this will never be the end for us. You're a true gem and God knows how much I adore you. Say hi to the family and Mr. Neville. Please tell him I miss him so much. He became you for me which really helped me to deal with you leaving me. ❤️ He really loves you. 😊. Anyway, my love speak again soon.

Sheila was always kind to him although communication could be a challenge. We are very grateful and appreciative of her care for Smitty. She was a sweet lady and we will miss seeing her. We are so sorry for your loss.*

Aunty Sheila, you was one in a million. You were the best Aunty anyone could ever have and love. I miss you so much. I miss speaking with you which we did on a daily basis. I keep going to my phone to go and call you then I get sad because I can no longer do this anymore. Life sucks without you. I'm sorry you are gone but happy you are no longer in anymore pain. I have kept all your voicemails God knows I have many of them and for some reason, I never would delete them when I would miss a call from you. Anyway, I know you are shining in heaven now and making everyone laugh with your stories. Earth has lost the last of the good angels and Heaven just gained the best angel. I will never forget you, my love you were like my second mother in the United States and I will forever love you. Your favourite niece Sharon from Great Britain 🇬🇧 ❤️❤️❤️🙏🙏🙏

I miss you so much, Aunty Sheila. I go to my phone to call you and then reality kicks in. Today has been another one of those days. I cry a lot because I miss you more than you will ever know. My mum your youngest sister is very worried when I get like this but always brings up the good times we shared which always brings a smile to my face. My mum has been doing everything in her power to uplift me which I am so grateful to her. 2019 has been a challenging year since you left us. I pray you are happier and I believe I will see you again. I love ❤️ you. Your favourite niece Sharon

I miss you, so much Aunty Sheila, only God knows how much I do, but I accept now God took you for a reason cause if you are looking down you will see this is not the world you once loved. I had a dream a few months ago of you speaking to me on the phone as we always did on a daily. I remember you saying in the dream it's beautiful and peaceful here in heaven but there's a lot of work to be done. Your last world to me I don't find a husband here yet and we both laughed 😂 so hard and then you were gone. I woke happy cause I know you are happy in Heaven. I know I am going to see you again Someday. I just wanted to let you know there is not a day that your name is not mentioned. Tell Mr. Neville I miss our talks he was my go to person when I was having a rough days of missing you. But I understand God needed him more. Tell him I said hi and I miss him too. I love ❤️ Aunty Sheila my favourite Aunty ❤️❤️❤️

To my beautiful Aunt Sheila. Today makes 3 years that you left us here on earth to be with the Almighty God 🙏. I still have my struggles accepting you are no longer on earth but every day I am learning to become stronger and understand more and more why, God brought you home. Here down on earth the world is not what you left. Everything has changed. The whole world has been in a pandemic for two years which I know this would be something you would find really hard to deal with being that you are such a people's person and enjoy being out and about but the world has changed and it's not for the good it's become a nightmare to live in. So I am happy you are in heaven. I do miss our late-night talks so much. I speak of you a lot with my mother your baby sister Dolcie who really misses you. Anyway, I have started going to church and had deliverance back in November 2019 with my mother. My church has really helped me with my prayer life and understanding life a lot more. I know have a great relationship with my Lord and Savior Jesus Christ so I know because of this we will meet again when God decides when it's time for me to come home. Anyway, my beautiful Aunt continue to rest in Paradise until we meet again. I love you forever your favourite Neice Sharon Williams 📿🙏❤️

Today is the exact day, "Tuesday," 2/6/2019, five years ago, when you were called home to be with our Heavenly Father. That day was one of the worst days of my life. I still struggle with it, but my faith allows me to understand that God makes no mistakes. The world we once knew has changed for the worse. So I am glad you are not here going through the suffering we all face daily because this new world would be challenging for you. People have become so cold to one another. There is no love, so it brings me peace knowing you are with our Lord and Savior. I will forever miss our late-night talks, but I know we will meet again one day. Hopefully, soon, I will hear from you in my dreams. It's been a while, Auntie 😊 not hearing Sharon; it's your Auntie Sheila and me saying I know it's you laughing. Anyway, I forgot to mention your favorite nephew Conrad has become a grandfather to a girl, and you know how his heart melts with girl babies. He is over the moon and is considering moving to Florida to be closer to his daughter, which is nice. As for me, I am in the UK 🇬🇧 spending time with my mother and the family. I have put Mum on a strict diet, and we are seeing a lot of results 👍🌀. I am also thinking of moving back to the UK 🇬🇧 to be closer to my mother, who needs me more now even though she acts as though she doesn't. 🌀We are more like sisters. It's hilarious, the two of us. I act like the mother, and she acts like the daughter 🌀 but it's all love. I work from home now due to the world-changing in 2020 because of the pandemic we are still struggling with. My job has been on strike for six months. I pray 🙏 things will be back and running soon. Being that I only want to work-from-home, this allows me to be home with my mother to help her with her daily life on things like going to the hospital appointments. I forgot to mention my mother is now a great-grandmother to a baby boy called Cairo ❤️, who is part Russian so we now have Russian in the family 😊. Anyway, I will make time to visit Auntie Doreen before I leave. Besides that, I am happy today knowing I have this platform to speak with you. Please hug Mr. Neville, who became a great friend to me when you passed. Say hi to the family. I know you all must be happy being together like old times ❤️. Well, I have been ordered to get my mother's breakfast done so we can speak again soon. I love you forever, my second mother. Sharon Williams ❤️🙏❤️
