“Sher was one of the loveliest individuals I have had the pleasure to know in my ninety years of living. She and I shared on many occasions our love for the Lord, our Savior the Lord Jesus Christ. She had a heart full of love for everyone, especially those members of her family and close friends. It was clear that we were in need of a Savior and He called us to Himself which brought us to a place of peace, joy and contentment. Sher was blessed by the presence of God in her life and her love for Jesus was clearly evidenced until her passing from this world to eternity.
