“ I loved Steven. I will never forget him introducing me to Nina Simone, his intellect, his wit, his sensitive nature, his voice, his sparkling eyes, his tenderness, and his love of cooking. He changed the trajectory of my life, and for that I am forever grateful. I will never forget him. And I am deeply saddened that he is gone. My condolences to all the Duprey family.

“ It was a pleasure to work with Steven on several occasions. His knowledge and insights were respected by myself and many in the dairy industry. The ability to graphically represent industry trends was a talent few possessed. That quite demeanor and mischievous smile distinguished him as a gentleman. Steven has left us to soon and will be missed.

“ No amount of words can sooth the pain Paula and all the other family members are feeling. Jesus said that Lazarus was at rest and so is Steven. He is in no more pain and would no longer have to face the difficulties we continue to face in this wicked world. Reflect on his good qualities and learn from them. Laugh when you have too and cry when you have too. Remember the God who cannot lie has promised that one day soon, he will call and Steven will answer. You can see him again! It is possible.
