

Mr. Sylvester Logan Sr.

December 18, 1933 - August 31, 2020

On Monday, August 31st at 10:53 a.m. Sylvester Logan, Sr's. journey on this Earth came to a close after a brief illness. Born on December 18, 1933 at Grady Hospital to parents Joe and Mary Logan, Sylvester came into this world intent to make his mark.

Sylvester was the third child of Joe and Mary. He was proceeded in death by Flint Logan, Almeta Logan Carter and his baby brother, Rufus Logan.

Logan was a Grady baby and proud of his Atlanta roots. He spent most of his formative years in the Summerhill area. He didn't last long in the Atlanta Public School system and soon started a life of work and enterprise. Proudly, he would recount his days delivering ice or working as a garbage man for the sanitation department of Fulton County.

After serving as an apprentice and learning the trade of concrete finishing, Sylvester decided to step out on his own and begin a career in construction. Though he formally had an elementary level education, he knew that he needed more education to make it. Logan chose to go to Atlanta Area Technical College to acquire the skills to master reading blueprints. After mingling with gentlemen the likes of Herman J. Russell and Walter Aaron, Logan was inspired to become a business owner. With his brothers and sons by his side, Logan would form S&L Concrete Company. Later he would venture out into general contracting, forming Your Way Concrete and S&L Construction.

Logan's life was transformed when he met Patricia Louise Carter, because also during this time he was introduced to Jesus through the teachings of the late Bishop Marshall and Mother Lillie Carter. Sylvester was proud to serve in the Lynwood Park Church under Bishop Carter as a Deacon while also serving the Lynwood Park Community located in what is currently Brookhaven, GA.

Sylvester Logan Sr. leaves behind in this world, two daughters, Dr. Shaveanda L. Queen (Daryl) and Christina Hill; four sons, Walter Lee Logan, Anthony Logan, Sylvester Logan, Jr. and Christopher Hill; spiritual family at the Lynwood Park Church, Visions Selah, along with many other family and friends.

A Graveside Celebration of Life Service for Mr. Sylvester Logan, Sr. will be held at 10:00AM on Tuesday, September 8, 2020 at Resthaven Gardens of Memory 2284 Candler Rd, Decatur, GA 30032. “ When I reflect on Deacon Logan, “old school cool” comes to mind. I remember back in the day how he used to rock those sharp 3-piece suits on Sundays with his sunglasses on. And who could forget his signature praise song “Won’t It Be Grand”! Deacon Logan was saved and the loved the Lord, but still had his streets smarts and a sense of humor to match. I always admired his entrepreneurial spirit and how he took care of his wife and kids. He always had a kind, encouraging word for me every time we crossed paths. Yes, Deacon Logan you will be missed. To Shaveanda and Syl Jr and the entire bereaved family, you have my sincerest condolences and know that you’re in my prayers.

“ I met Deacon Logan when I was a child at Lynwood Park Ucogic. He was the softball coach, deacon. Over the years we had many conversations about life. He would let me know because you live in the hood you don't have to act like the hood. I admired his work ethic. That man knew about some concrete. He would tell us as children that we could be and do whatever we wanted if we put God first and work hard. I remember the male chorus rehearsals and so many other memories. The last time I saw him he told with tears in his eyes that he was proud of me and my family. Deacon Logan was a real one that Loved his family and loved God. You will be truly missed. You can now sit on down at the welcome table and rest a while over there in your new home!

“ My Uncle Logan,

The pain I feel is indescribable!!! There is definitely a hole in my heart now that you're gone. You were the ONLY Uncle I've had consistently in my life for the past 39 years!!! I am going to miss our conversations. Me calling you or you calling me and saying "Tan, Marsh, Lette!! You know I'm getting old!" Then you'd chuckle and we'd both laugh!!

I so hate that I missed that last call from you!! What I would give to turn back the hands of time and grab my phone to hear you say "Hey Suga!!"

I'm going to miss you soooooooooo much!! But I find some peace in knowing that you knew I loved you to pieces and you knew that I had your back!! You did your absolute best to make everything right before you left here and I appreciate the time I had to talk to you about it all!!

No more suffering, no more pain!! You can rest now and I know you're singing "Won't it be Grand!"

Love you always and forever My Uncle Logan!!

Your Suga Lette

September 19, 1969 was what we had in common. My sister, Pat, and Logan, my husband, Paul and myself were married. We became a team. Our first home in the same apartment building with our front doors facing about 6 ft. apart. We spent most of our Saturday night together. We called each other Auntie or Uncle. Logan never stopped calling me Auntie after all these years. On a couple of Saturday nights, Logan initiated the activity. One night he came over with a couple of ties, and asked my husband if he could teach him to tie a tie. Little did he know that my husband was wearing clip-ons just like he was. So, since Pat didn't know how to tie a tie, I was the teacher. Not anything fancy, just the simplest form that could be used. So, we spent about an hour learning how to tie a tie. Neither of them ever wore a clip on tie again, unless it was a formal bow tie. Next on the agenda, Logan bought a couple of tambourines: one for him and one for my husband. He felt like they needed to be contributing something to the church service. Once again, I was the teacher and they were the students. You know the rest of the story. They both had their tambourines every church service. Even though we were married one the same day, we only spent one anniversary together. That may have been one of the most enjoyable weekend ever. As the years went by and death began taking its toll, Logan and I never loss touch. It was he who did all the concrete work at the Visions Selah Church, and even at my home. As his health declined, when he came to church, he would find the strength to get to me even if I was already in my office. It was also a pleasure to have him at the table during our holiday celebrations. O yes, he will be missed. In a matter of fact he's already missed! All the memories between the four of us, and I'm the only one left to tell! But, his song tells his desire. "Won't it be grand; I'm going home to live with Jesus, won't it be grand." Pat had many, but the greatest was: "Make it in"! And she stressed: "I've got to make it! Just make it!" And my husband couldn't get enough of "God has done great things for me!" Even though he sang: "Bye & Bye we will see Jesus. In that land over there." And, I am the only one left to tell!

My condolences to my cousin Shaveanda, Daryl, Sylvester Jr and the entire Logan family. I have many wonderful memories of Deacon Logan. He was a great influence on my life as I was growing up in the church. He took out the time to organize a youth sports program at Lynwood Park UCOGIC. His mentoring was a blessing to young boys like myself growing up in the church. We recognized that the enemy had different plans for our young lives but Deacon Logan realized that as young men we needed to be active within the church. His actions inspired me to be appointed to the Deacon Board. I will always treasure his memories and I will never forget the legacy of men that he left behind. Rest In Peace Sir. You will always be missed.
