“ To the family of Talana General: Please accept my sincere condolences for your loss. Death is the enemy of all mankind, yet when it touches us personally, few seek the comfort they search for. The unscriptural doctrines that are taught concerning death do not leave those who are grieving with comfort or a hope. They do however, leave many with unanswered questions. The response that God works in mysterious ways or that God needed another angel, does not satisfy the spiritual needs of those who are grieving. Nonetheless, many have found comfort in the pages of God's word the Bible (2 Corinthians 1:3, 4). In God's word we find the promise that we can be reunited with our loved ones (John 5:28,29; Acts 24:15). The Bible tells us where this happy reunion will take place (Psalm 37: 11, 29). We are told why we die (Genesis 3:17-19; Romans 5:12), and that the God of the Bible will end death forever (Isaiah 25:8; Revelation 21:3,4). Learning the truth about Jehovah, the God of the Bible (Psalm 83:18), God's Kingdom (Daniel 2:44), and the state of those who have died (Ecclesiastes 9:5), is the start to finding true comfort concerning loved ones who are sleeping in death (John 11:11-14; John 8:32). “ I would like to express my sincere condolences to the family. The loss of a love one brings much grief and agony, but there is so much comfort that can be found in God’s word the bible. The promise of a resurrection at John 5:28, 29 and death will be no more at Revelation 21:3, 4. Taking in true knowledge of the true God and his son Jesus, assures us eternal life. (John 17:3)

“ I would like to offer my sincere condolences for the loss of your dear love one. During this difficult time, much comfort can be found in God’s Word the Bible. An interesting question asked by the faithful man (Job 14: 14, 15) “If an able-bodied man dies can he live again? The answer, “You will call, and I myself shall answer you.” Therefore, death is not the end of it all, because one day in the very near future God’s promise will come true at 1 Corinthians 15:55,57 “Death where is your sting? Thanks, to our Lord, Jesus Christ!” Sincerely,

God is faithful and he assures us...I will by no means leave you nor by any means forsake you. ~Hebrews 13:5.

“ We are so sorry to hear about your loss. Brittany Taylor Arbaugh was classmates with Talana and spoke so highly of her. Brittany is having a difficult time trying to understand this tragedy and has expressed how much she will miss Talana. Brittany was so very fortunate to be able to celebrate Talana's 12th birthday with her in February and had so much fun with Talana at the Spa Pastry place. DMS classmates are wearing Yellow to school in remembrance of Talana on Thursday. We wanted the family to know that a few select friends of Talana's chose to wear Purple to school on Wednesday in honor of Talana. Purple was Talana's favorite color. Brittany and I were able to make it to the viewing Wednesday evening just in time before 6pm. The viewing couldn't have been more Purple Perfect for Talana. The room had light purple walls, alot of purple flowers, the casket had nice light purple flowers embedded in the marble sections and Talana looked beautiful in a light purple dress with or course light purple nail polish. Talana will be deeply missed by all of her friends and anyone that met her smiling face. Our prayers are with you during your loss. -Marie, Scott and Brittany Arbaugh (6th grade friend)

“ *To the General Family and Friends, I know what a difficult time this must be for you. May the light from God's Word the Bible give you light and hope through the darkness of your loss. My hope for you is that when the time is right for it you will look up the following verses in your copy of the Bible. JOHN 5:28,29 gives us hope of a future resurrection and Revelation 21:3,4 of a time under Christ's Kingdom rule when death, sorrow, sickness and pain will be completely done away with. “ Talana, AKA TT, sweetest child. Never complained, never a child you had to speak to. Talana always did what she was supposed to. Even when all the other kids at the gathering were in disarray or running wild, Talana was always sitting and watching. You will truly be missed. I take comfort in knowing you are no longer suffering although I wish I could just see you once more. If even for a second. Talana I cannot make the service but I will be in purple tomorrow for you. Rest in peace beautiful angel. To the Generals, my family and I love you and are here for you in whatever way possible.

“ To my family, I cannot find any words to express the extreme sadness that I am feeling in the loss of Talana. If my heart is this heavy, I know there is no way I can possibly grasp the depth of pain you all have at this time. Although our time here on earth with Talana was not as long as we thought it would be or should be, we can without a doubt have assurance in know that she is resting, smiling and comfortable in the loving arms of our Heavenly Father. As it goes in many families, when something like this happens, we have that overwhelming feeling of gosh; we all should have spent more time together. Yet, in this same thought, I am so glad that we did spend many really good times with Talana as a family. The family get together's were and still will be a time that we look forward to so that we can share laughs, reminisce and eat too much. As soon as I would tell the girls it was get together time, whether you guys were coming to Alabama or us going to South Carolina, the first thing they would ask was "Is Talana coming or going to be there" and if I answered I don't know or no, their reply would then be "why not"? They always looked forward to spending time with their cousin. I am so glad it was on your hearts to make Talana's birthday special this year and I am thankful to you all for including Alexis and Makiyah. It was a special time for them as they will always have that as a wonderful memory and a good last time spent with Talana. I do not think they will ever forget that "totally awesome" birthday party. Our family has experienced their share of ups and many downs. By the grace of God, we continue to move forward and look up for our strength. We have an uncompromising love for one another and that is something to stand on. I am here for you and I will keep you my prayers, not just for the time but always. Talana will forever be etched in our hearts. We will always love her and will truly miss her. I love you all so very much. Mechiel
