“ -- You gave me life & I am forever grateful for that. The time spent & the bond we created over the years has been mainly beautiful. I love you more than you can ever begin to think. . . Nothing you've done or said to me will go in vain. I carry our memories in my heart & they are on replay in my mind.

My heart aches terribly since you're no longer here, but I have a sense of peace because you're no longer in pain. I pray you save a spot for me, b/c I really just want to be close to you.

One more hug, one more kiss, one more laugh, one more diss. . . you will truly be missed. . .

Seriously the best mom ever. . .

Love,
Talessa Smith

“ Tammy,

There are no words that can express the sadness my heart has felt over the last few months. You were a great mentor to us when we teenagers and we truly looked up to you! The word tells us that to be absent in body is to be present with the Lord so although my heart aches for your children and family I can smile now knowing that you are FREE !!!
