“ Hearing this news hit me hard and although I knew you for a short time you impacted me more than you know. The laughs shared with you and Jerry, the jokes made and the struggles we endured at work. Gone too soon but I know you are at peace and rested now. I pray for your mom, kids and family and that god give them the strength, willpower and mindset to continue to move forward. You may be gone physically but you aren't forgotten nor aren't you here with us.

“ I was deeply saddened to hear of your passing. I still remember our last conversation at Dish, when you were feeling stressed about work. I told you to stay focused, prepare for the worst, and take things one day at a time—because our jobs do not define our purpose. I'm truly grateful and honored that you trusted me enough to seek advice during our time working together. My memory of you will always be of someone genuine, authentic, and always smiling.
