“ It is with a heavy heart that I write this tribute to my dear friend Valentine, my teammate, my brother. Saturdays will never be the same without him—without his laughter, his stories, and the unforgettable presence he brought to the Gwinnett Veterans Soccer Club.

He was the kind of person who filled every moment with life. No matter how tough the game got or how tired we were, he had a way of making us laugh, reminding us that joy is just as important as the game itself. His favorite quote, "Shiiiiii," was always the perfect prelude to a joke that would leave us all in stitches. His humor was a gift, a light that brightened every gathering.

But beyond the laughter, he was a true friend. A man who stood by you, who shared stories that made you think, who made sure that no one was left out. He had a way of bringing people together, of making each Saturday not just a game but a moment of camaraderie, of family.

Losing him is painful, but the memories he left behind will always remain. We will honor him in the best way we know—by keeping the spirit of our Saturdays alive, by sharing the laughter he gave so freely, and by remembering that life, like soccer, is best played with heart.

Rest well, my friend. You will always be a part of us.

Until we meet again.
