“ Val was a positive and inspirational person. She had a spirit with a special light that drew you to her and that beautiful smile. I was inspired by talking to her about my breast cancer and hearing how she was fighting cancer again with a positive attitude. Val made me feel better and soon had me laughing with her wonderful sense of humor. She was one of my heroes. i remember many years ago when Val, Mike and the boys came to Las Vegas it was around July 4th and my birthday July 2nd. Val fit right in with my friends and the 4 of us went shopping. I found several outfits and asked them which one I should put back. Two of them distracted me and instead of putting back the outfit the three of them paid for it and gave it to me as a birthday present. Val was so happy that they surprised me. May your precious memories sustain all of you during this difficulty time. Our condolences and love to all the family.
