“ I will always remember Mrs. Wright with a special tenderness, having realized the day we met that we shared the same birthday—a quiet reminder of how life connects us in unexpected ways. She was a woman of strength, grace, and deep love, and she poured those qualities into the way she raised her daughters. The amazing women she brought into the world are a living reflection of who she was. Her legacy isn't only in memory, but in the lives she shaped, the values she passed down, and the love that continues through her family. She will always be remembered with gratitude, honor, and love.

“ Ms. Wright I thank you for allowing me to walk this journey with you. The days I was there to care for you were always eventful because we laughed shared stories and talked about our kids. You always let me know how proud you were of Ranadia and Shataundia and your family. I know they are missing you and will forever miss your physical presence but you will always be in there hearts. We were not blood but you were like family and I will definitely miss you. Earth has no Sorrow Heaven cannot Heal. My deepest condolences and prayers to the girls and all who love you.

“ There aren't enough words to describe the brokenness we feel from your passing. Life as we knew it ha certainly changed. I am eternally grateful for the 48 years of love, affection, rearing, correction, encouragement and support. Mom, God couldn't have selected a better vessel to birth us girls. You loved us and made sure we knew it. You told everyone you knew how proud you were of your girls. The world will also know just how much we loved you. I pray that you've found your resting place. I love you so much and will miss you immensely.

“ Valishia Wright and I were classmates, family friends. Valishia was in our wedding 51 years ago in Green Cove Springs Florida, which we just celebrated January 11th. She always had a beautiful smile on her face, the life of the party, sweet and kind, she will definitely be missed. We're praying for her family as they mourn her passing. Just remember Valishia loved her girls and her family. She will forever be in our hearts. Blessings to you young ladies. Love y'all
