“ 22 years ago Vera was one of the first friends that I met after relocating from NC to GA.I thought about what I would say about her transitioning and if I would use a certain type word or words to describe our friendship. I cannot find any specific words to define our friendship because she did things only Vera could do. Only on rare occasions have I felt the way that I am feeling now, this is how I know that Vera was a true friend ALL THE TIME!!! I loved you Vera and thank you for being a TRUE friend. I will see you again and perhaps we can talk about the GOOD OLD DAYS!!!!I will miss you for the rest of my life.Vince

“ What a void Vera’s passing has left. Vera was not only one of the girls, she was our sister. She was our dazzling, sparkling centerpiece. She filled our lives with so much thunderous laughter. She was always there for the good, the bad and the ugly, as a true friend would. Our times together will never be the same again. Although our hearts are broken, Vera would not want us to be sad. She would not allow it. If she could, she would say “come on y’all let’s not be sadt ok. Let’s sing a song or come on somebody let’s dance.” Yes, that’s right, “sadt.” That’s the way Vera would say it. I will miss the conversations that Vera and I had. “Can we talk?” She would sometime ask. Vera would talk about how much she loved her children, her grandchildren and her family. She would talk how much it meant to her that she had friends who loved her and that she loved. We would talk tirelessly about how much she loved the Lord. So I know she is alright. Vera always greeted her friends with a hello and a hug and “see you later, I love you” when parting. So to Vera, my sweet, dear friend and sister, see you later, I love you. With deepest sympathy, Angie

“ My beautiful cousin, Vera was such an AMAZING person! She was so FULL of LIFE! I will truly miss Vera....her voice, her smile, the laughter that brought a smile to my face. I remember how Vera would let me do her make-up, even when she didn't need it! We shared some wonderful, precious moments together and the last piece of advice that she gave me, really reinforced the importance of LOVE! I appreciated that :) I'll cherish all the times we spent together and Vera will always be near and dear to my HEART!

“ To the family, Vera will truly be missed by all. She was a very fun loving person. We had our little upsand downs but always worked them out with love. I will never forget Vera, the way she would talk Spanish and Italian. Her singing, dancing and spirit of adventure. She like going to the Gwinnett County Fair, For Sisters Only, Native Omaha Day, and all the fairs/festivals we could find, We shared some wonderful times.Love,Diane
