“ There are no words to describe the pain and sadness of the family but God knows best. It's God and his wisdom that we're relying on for comfort during this time. You were the too cool cousin that always kept it real even when the truth wasn't what some of us wanted to hear. I thank God for your life. Rest well cousin.

“ If I would have known Sunday would have been my last time to hear your voice maybe I would have stayed on the phone just a couple more minutes. Although, it’s not my time it’s Gods time. 🙏 Therefore, I thank God for all your love and kindness you always had for me. 🙏 You were more like my aunt than my cousin. 🙏 Thank you for all the laughs and wonderful memories we had together. 🙏 Wanda, God made you from special cloth. 🙏 There will never be another Wanda. 🙏 Now I am blessed to have a special angel in heaven watching over me. 🙏 I love you.

“ I would have never imagined that Sunday would be the last time I would say I love you to you. Wanda, you were that “shoulder” in the family that everyone could lean on. I wish we had more time together. Yet, I know you are surrounded with family in heaven.

I love you,

“ Wanda, I can't believe that you're gone. I miss you already. You were so much more than a cousin, you were my sister. I will always remember your kindness, generosity and your big heart. EVERYONE, seemed to come to you whenever they were in need...family, friends or even friends of the kids. You opened your home, offered your food, gave out clothes, money and advice to who ever needed it. You never met a stranger...and you will be greatly missed. I love you with all my heart and it's truly broken now that you're gone. Thankfully, I know that you are in a better place now. No more suffering and no more pain. REST WELL WANDA!!! Marjorie
