

Mr. Warren Jackson Sr.

December 17, 1948 - January 18, 2023

Mr. Harry Warren Jackson, sr. was born on December 17, 1948, in Lithonia, Georgia, to the late Mr. Lewis E. Jackson, Sr., and Mrs. Nellie Grace Jackson. He attended Bruce Street School in DeKalb County and furthered his education by attending DeKalb Technical Institute.

He met his future wife, Brenda, and they married on June 28, 1970. To this union, two sons were born.

Warren joined Union Baptist Church at a very young age. In his later years he joined Beulah Baptist Church.

He was employed with the Decatur DeKalb News and Webco Printing as an offset pressman for over thirty years until he retired from printing. He also worked for the Children School of Atlanta for many years.

Warren loved to travel with his wife, Branda. He felt you deserve a vacation at least once a year.

Warren enjoyed his sports, football, basketball, baseball, and bowling. He also coached little league baseball for many years.

He was preceded in death by his sister, Annie G. McMullen.

He leaves to cherish his memories: a devoted wife of 52 years, Brenda; two sons, Warren Jackson and Shamar A. Jackson (LaTisha Jackson (wife)); five grandchildren, Jordan Jackson, Ryann Henry, Jazmin Jackson, Jaden Jackman and Jayla Jackson; two brothers, Lewis E. Jackson, Jr., and Earnest Jackson, Sr.; one sister, Mary A. Harper; daughter-in-love, Kristi Jackson; and a host of other relatives and friends.

Brenda, sending love and condolences to all of you in the loss of my cousin Warren. There was never, ever a time when we came down there that Warren didn't make his way to see us, wherever we were. It won't be the same now. Even though I can't be there with you, I'm with you in spirit; my thoughts and prayers are with you.
