

William C. Woolfolk, Sr.

January 6, 1945 - December 9, 2025

Obituary for William C. Woolfolk Sr.

It is with deep sorrow that we announce the passing of William C. Woolfolk Sr., a beloved father, brother, and friend to many. William passed away peacefully on Tuesday, December 9th, 2025, at the age of 80, in Decatur, GA.

William was born on January 6th, 1945, in the serene town of Warm Springs, Georgia. Throughout his life's journey, William demonstrated unwavering dedication and resilience, characteristics that were nurtured in his Southern roots.

For 40 distinguished years, William thrived as a Manager, earning respect and admiration from colleagues and clients alike. His work ethic and leadership were unparalleled, and his commitment to excellence set a benchmark in his field.

William was preceded in death by his cherished spouse, Sandra Woolfolk; his father, Sam Williams; and his mother, Katie Woolfolk. They are now lovingly reunited.

He is survived by his devoted children, who continue to carry his legacy forward: Kimberly L. Taylor, Chaquita Q. Para, and William C. Woolfolk Jr. His family was his pride and joy, and their love stands as a testament to his life.

Family and friends are invited to celebrate William's life during a visitation on Monday, December 22nd, 2025, from 4:00pm to 8:00pm. The visitation will be held at Gregory B. Levett & Sons Funeral Homes & Crematory - South Dekalb.

As we remember William, let us cherish the memories of his laughter, wisdom, and kindness, which he freely shared with all who knew him. His spirit will forever live on in our hearts.

In lieu of flowers, the family encourages donations to be made in William's memory to a charity of your choice, reflecting his generous spirit and commitment to giving back to the community.

Arrangements have been entrusted to the care of Gregory B. Levett & Sons Funeral Homes & Crematory - South Dekalb.

Rest in peace, William C. Woolfolk Sr. You will be dearly missed and eternally remembered.
